7. Delegations

- Laura O’Rourke, Community Developer, Huron Perth Public Health – Implementation of Community Safety and Well-Being Plan and partnership opportunity
- Laura O’Rourke is a community developer at Huron Perth Public Health and is working on a project called Destination: Prosperity. This project focuses on supporting women in different communities in Huron. Her role is to connect women with each other and also with different service providers and agencies that would benefit them. One of the groups that Laura supports is in Huron Park.
- Laura is interested in discussing South Huron’s implementation plan for the Community Safety and Well-Being Plan and how this plan is being operationalized at the local level and how this group could possibly support actions out of that plan.
- Destination: Prosperity is an initiative of the Poverty to Prosperity Coalition of Huron, supported by the Huron Perth Public Health and funded by United Way Perth-Huron
- This project started in 2016 and invites women to become engaged in enhancing the quality of life in their community and invite service providers to make changes in the way they provide services as the local level. There are six communities in Huron County that are supported through this project. These communities include Huron Park, Dungannon, Brussels, Vanastra, Blyth and Hensall.
- The group in Huron Park was one of the initial communities supported. The group New Outlook was formed early on and focused on specific actions that came out of a community survey in 2017 which identified needs around recreation, gathering spaces and transportation.
- Hoping to host a community party in April to invite people of the community out and have a chance to reconnect and have some conversations about needs and wants in the community.
- The Huron Park Action Network is a group of community members and services providers that meet, presently quarterly, to connect and discuss any issues arising in their community.
- There is a Transportation Committee as well that has applied for a grant through United Way for taxi vouchers for people in Huron Park to access services in Exeter.
- Looking forward to ways that the work that is being done through the Destination: Prosperity Project in Huron Park can support actions out of the Community and Safety Well Being Pan.
- Contact information: Laura O’Rourke: lorourke@hpph.ca

- Chair Dietrich thanked Laura for her knowledgeable presentation and questioned how the South Huron Police Services Board could assist the Destination: Prosperity Group – he suggested that when restrictions are lifted, the Board could schedule a meeting in person to discuss further
- It was suggested that Provincial Constable Jamie Stanley would be a perfect fit to coordinate with this group - Acting Staff Sgt Lynn McNichol will make this connection
- Director of Legislative Services/Clerk, Rebekah Msuya-Collison briefly spoke to the Community Safety and Well-Being Plan and the intent in proceeding
- Rebekah also thanked Laura for attending and for sharing her information regarding the Project. She noted that after hearing the presentation, she believes there may be other connections to Municipal initiatives
- Successfully moving forward with the Community Safety and Well-Being Plan will include communicating, collaborating and partnering with other area groups, including representation from individuals throughout the various wards in South Huron – it's important to have a diverse group engaged in this role
- Inspector Younan expressed his desire and interest in the OPP being involved with the progress of the Community Safety and Well-Being Plan from a County perspective – how can the OPP contribute?
- It was noted that the Community Safety and Well-Being Working Group will be meeting on Tuesday, February 15, 2022 – Laura has been invited to attend this meeting
- Inspector Younan and Acting Staff Sgt Lynn McNichol would like to join the meeting hosted by the CSWB Group next week
